

SpiritoTouch

SPY

Ellagic oak extract

DESCRIPTION

SpiritoTouch SPY is derived from a natural purification and extraction process of medium-toasted French oak. This 100% soluble extract boasts a spicy aromatic profile that significantly contributes to the complexity spirits. The aroma descriptors include roasted coffee, light smoke, caramel, and a general spiciness, all of which add depth and character. It also provides volume and softness to the palate, enhancing the overall sensory experience.

SpiritoTouch SPY can be used during ageing or just before bottling to impart the final touch to the spirit. It enhances the spicy aromas and complexity typical of French oak, ensuring a rich and layered flavor profile. Additionally, it improves mouthfeel by adding volume, texture, and softness, making each sip a delightful experience. Whether used for ageing or as a finishing touch, SpiritoTouch SPY is an excellent choice for elevating the quality and sophistication of all spirits.
