

SpiritoTouch

RDN

Yeast Mannoproteins

DESCRIPTION

SpiritoTouch RDN is a remarkable adjuvant derived from mannoproteins extracted from yeast cell walls. Its unique properties allow it to interact with various compounds in spirits, including aromas, significantly enhancing the sensory qualities of the final product.

When used in spirits, SpiritoTouch RDN imparts softness, adds volume, and brings out a pleasant sweetness, all while improving the back palate experience. This makes each sip smoother and more enjoyable. For the best results, it is recommended to use SpiritoTouch RDN at an alcohol concentration of 40%.

Whether you're looking to refine the texture or elevate the flavor profile of your spirits, SpiritoTouch RDN is your go-to solution for achieving a superior drinking experience.
